This story is about
a rocket,

astronauts

and the Moon.

The Moon is very far away.

Astronauts have been there.

I'm an astronaut too!

The astronauts sat at the very top of a rocket.

LIFT OFF!

The rocket flew
into space.

It took four whole days
to reach the Moon.

The astronauts landed
in a little spaceship.

They put on space
suits to go outside.

The Moon was quiet
and very dusty.

14

There were mountains

and huge holes
called craters.

15

The astronauts felt
light and floaty.

BOUNCE!

BOUNCE!

They could jump
really far.

BOUNCE!

An illustration of two astronauts in white space suits with red circular markings, driving a small, four-wheeled Moon buggy on a sandy, desert-like surface. The buggy has orange wheels and a yellow antenna. A small orange umbrella is attached to the back of the buggy. The background shows a vast, flat, brown landscape with some distant rocks.

They explored
in a Moon buggy.

18

They took photos

and collected rocks.

19

They even put up a flag.

They looked at our world. It was very far away!

Then they blasted off
for home.

The buggy, the flag
and their footprints
are still there.

Would you like to go to the Moon?
