

Summer

Ailie
Busby

I know it's summer when...

...the sun shines
through my window
early in the morning...

...and I jump
out of bed!

It's time for sun hats
and sunscreen...

...swimsuits
and bare feet.

Ice-cold drinks make my tongue tingle.

We're eating sandwiches in the sand... ...and sand in our sandwiches!

I can play out in warm summer showers...

...and sniff the bright
summer flowers.

I can have splish-splashy water fights...

...and feel tickly grass between my toes!

Then yawning happily...

...I fall fast asleep
before it gets dark.

